HERMIT'S HANNAH BEST IN L. I. SHOW

Col. Nelles's Entry Scores in Last of Monthly Series of Matches.

FRENCH BULLDOG RESERVE

Mrs. H. Hill Sweeps the Boards in Pomeranians, Chocolate Dandy Leading.

The last monthly show and series of matches of the Long Island Kennel Club took place in the club's rooms in the Johnston Building, Brooklyn, on Friday took place in the club's rooms in the Johnston Building, Brooklyn, on Friday night. Freeman-Lloyd was chosen as judge, and he gave the prize for the best dog in the show to Col. Nelles's Hermit's Hannah, a light brindle and white English bull bitch, flat and well made in the skull and good in body, under jaw and squareness, but small in nostrils. The French buildog, Messrs, Hamm and Hoffman's Freshie, reserved, is a dark brindle dog, very good in body, fair in bone, nice in eyes and ears, but rather long in fore face.

The best of the builded males was Col. The best of the bulldog males was Col.
Nelles's Newington Paradox, a short and toyish skutted dog, otherwise standing well. Otto Stander's Hermit's Doctor,

IMITATION SUSSEX SPANIELS.

Whole Class at Long Island K. C. Show Gets the Gate.

In a class for Sussex spaniels at the Long Island Kennel Club show the judge of gave the gate to the dogs entered, saying they were not Sussex spaniels at all. The rather curly coated, liver colored dogs benched were simply indifferent field spaniels for show purposes, they being too high on the leg, lacking in bone and curly in coat.

There have been very few true Sussex spaniels in America. They are built on the state of the A. K. C. I enclose herewith $5 protest fee. Respectfully, ROSE PHILLIPS HARBY.

Mrs. H. Lee Anstey of Oyster Bay, L. L., is going in for the very fashionable Pekinese dog. Mr. Anstey is well known in connection with the Tetsan Kennel of English toy spaniels and is one of the original members of the Toy Spaniel Club of America.

Arnold Lawson of Boston is never happier than when in the midst of a bunch of English or French buildogs. He said yesterday that the buildog game seems to be in a far more flourieding condition in this country than it has been since Billy Codman of Providence, R. L. came over in short pants with his first buildogs. Mr. Lawson thinks most of the credit for all this buildog prominence can be given to that hustling organization the Buildogs Breeders Association, whose headquarters are in New York.

George W. MacCutcheon of New York will establish a kennel of smooth fox terriers and has just imported the excellently bred James Dandy II. This smart dog was bred by R. L. Lancaster and is a son of Mr. Redmond's champion Dukedom and Camp Waxy. Mr. MacCutcheon will have his kennels at Woodland avenue, Summit, N. J.
